V. Responsibilities & Time Commitment

Participation in SIMA's Board of Directors at an international level provides a unique opportunity for an individual to make a significant contribution to the snow & ice management industry. Participation also carries with it certain time commitments, both of your personal time and time away from your office. To gauge the time and financial commitments, the following information should be helpful:

- Directors each serve one three-year term with possible election to a 2nd 3 year term.
- Board participation requires 3 in-person meetings each fiscal year (FY runs October 1 – September 30) with a travel stipend of $1,000 per meeting. Any additional costs are the responsibility of the board member. One of these meetings will always occur at the Snow & Ice Symposium.
- Generally, the SIMA board meets quarterly via conference call for one hour.
- Participation on at least one standing board committee is required. These committees typically meet via conference call every other month for 1 hour.

Agreement: I have read this application to serve on SIMA's Board of Directors and hereby submit my application to serve on the board of directors.
